Get microbiota certified!

Need practical training on microbiota? Want to update and upgrade your knowledge in a couple of hours? Want to book a private mentoring session with an international expert? Xpeer Medical Education and the Biocodex Microbiota Institute launch a set of courses in order to improve physician's knowledge about the importance of human microbiota on health.

Free accredited courses, available in 7 languages

The training set is composed of 4 one-hour accredited courses. You just have 5 minutes? No problem, each hour is composed of several micro-learning videos. An evaluation test is available at the end of the course to get official European Continuing Medical Education credits provided by the European Accreditation Council on Continuing Medical Education. The courses are available in 7 languages: English, French, Spanish, Russian, Polish, Turkish and Portuguese. Made possible thanks to an unrestricted grant by the Biocodex Microbiota Institute, these courses are completely free and available exclusively on the Xpeer app.

Book a private mentoring session with an expert on the Xpeer app

The first session, available on May 2021 (to confirm) will be dedicated to Drugs and Gut microbiota. Lead by Professor Francisco Guarner Aguilar, MD, PhD, a gastroenterologist and senior researcher at the Vall d'Hebron Research Institute, this course is made for HCPs with medium level of knowledge on microbiota. Thanks to a visual summary composed with 3 recommendations and 3 concepts to revisit, the healthcare professional can use immediately what he/she learns with his/her next patient. Exclusive: the HCPs can also book a private mentoring session with an Pr Guarner on the Xpeer app. Don't wait, get microbiota certified!
